EXPERTISE

RÉCIFE developed TattooLeather, an innovative printing leather technique that allows the accurate reproduction of paintings, pictures, or any imagery with exact chroma, thus guaranteeing a finish in keeping with the original.

The pigments that we use adopt the codes from tattooing for a surprising result. To get this result, our craftsmen use only fine materials. In addition to that, every piece is hand-made. That is why every product is unique and different from one another.

There is no mass production in our workshop! It is the same highly specialized craftsman who ensure the production of the same product from the beginning to the end of the process.
