ASHIA

HAND-MADE CRYSTAL JEWELRY OBJECT - WHOLESALE COLLECTION

ABOUT

An ancient tradition. A modern vision.

ASHIA is a jewellery studio built around natural materials, form and handwork.

Each piece begins with a stone. Natural crystals are selected individually for their color, transparency, inclusions and character, then carved by hand using traditional techniques passed through generations.

Rather than asking the material to become uniform, the design responds to what is already there. The natural structure of each crystal becomes part of the final form.

Working with hand-carved crystals, 14K gold and gemstones, ASHIA brings an ancient language of making into a contemporary context.

Subtle differences in surface, tone and form remain visible, making each piece inherently individual.

At the heart of ASHIA is a belief that value exists beyond the rarity of a material. It is also found in time, knowledge, human touch and the hands behind an object.

Wearable Sculpture.

Shaped by hand. Shaped by time.

THE FOUNDER

Eden Asherian Founder and Creative Director

ASHIA is a jewelry brand founded in 2024 by designer and Creative Director Eden Asherian, exploring jewelry as a wearable object.

The work brings together hand-carved natural stones, selected gemstones, diamonds and 14K gold through a material-led approach to form, proportion and color.

With a background spanning fashion design, art direction and visual communication, Asherian brings a multidisciplinary perspective to jewelry - approaching each piece as both object and adornment.

CRAFT

Each stone is carved individually by hand, allowing its natural structure to guide the final form.

In close collaboration with master artisans in India, ASHIA brings together natural crystals, selected gemstones, diamonds and 14K gold, creating sculptural pieces where material, precision and the hand meet.
